Calvin Christian High School Snowcoming Dance 2024 Guest Pass

Due by Monday, January 8, 2024

Dance Policies:

Whenever Calvin Christian students gather as a group – in private or in public – individual tastes and expressions take second place to our communal witness to our school, to its Christian perspective, and ultimately to Christ himself. Our extra-curricular activities are surely a form of our communal witness. We intend for our dances to be a wholesome social activity.

Therefore, the following will apply to Snowcoming:

- All high school expectations, rules and discipline regarding conduct and behavior are to be enforced at Snowcoming – these rules can be found in the Student Handbook.
- There will be no sexually inappropriate dancing allowed, no excessive public displays of affection. Actions not permitted include, but is not limited to, sexual simulations, leg between leg, front to front, back to front. Embracing is allowed – but not grinding and rubbing. Offenders will receive one warning before being asked to leave.
- Attendees must remain respectful of each other and all chaperones
- A student must sign an agreement acknowledging the dance rules and a signed parental permission form is required.
- Student ID cards are to be turned in at the door the night of the banquet. These will be returned as students leave the dance.
- The dance will be a closed event, but not a lock-in. Attendees that choose to leave early will not be readmitted.

Dress Code

Snowcoming is a formal-attire event. All students who attend Snowcoming should wear appropriate clothing. Men should wear dress pants and dress shirts, and if they chose, a tie and suit coat. Ladies should wear a dress, or a skirt/dress pants and a nice top.

As representatives of our school, and more importantly representatives of Christ, the dress you wear for our formal banquets/dances is important. Many dresses in our culture today are not appropriate for Calvin Christian events, but there are many more that are, and in which you will look stunningly beautiful. It is important that you choose your dress keeping in mind your role as a representative of your Christian faith.

To avoid confusion on what will be considered appropriate, please observe the following guidelines:

- Ladies choosing to wear short dresses or skirts to the banquet must follow these guidelines. Dresses
 - Dresses or skirts may not be more than 5 inches above the knee cap.
 - Any slits in dresses or skirts must not be more than five inches above the knee and also the wearer must bring leggings for the dance portion.
- 2) Plunging necklines or necklines with excessive cleavage as well as bare midriffs will not be allowed.

If there is a question about whether or not your attire is appropriate, talk with Ms. Boender or Mr. Henderson before the day of Snowcoming. Students who choose not to follow the Snowcoming dress code will be asked to change or leave without a refund.
